

Dawn Wilson

Indianapolis, Indiana

- Attorney
- Chief Administrative Law Judge, Indiana Department of Child Services

Travel: Statewide

Areas of Particular Interest:

- Mortgage Foreclosure
- All Property Issues, including Boundary Disputes, Covenants and Ownership
- Zoning and Land Use
- All Contract Issues
- All Taxation Issues
- Civil Rights
- Personal Injury
- Premises Liability
- Natural Resources
- Environmental
- Commercial/Business Litigation
- Administrative

Additional Information:

Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) Dawn Wilson is currently the Chief ALJ for the Indiana Department of Child Services (DCS) and has acted as an ALJ for DCS since 2007. Judge Wilson presides over cases involving child welfare and child support matters including the Child Protection Index, the Indiana Adoption Program, licensing under DCS statutory authority, provider disputes regarding annual contract rates and child support enforcement actions.

Judge Wilson has over 25 years of legal experience as a licensed attorney in good standing with the Indiana Supreme Court. Judge Wilson has advised clients and their representatives on appropriate interpretations of State and Federal law and regulations, negotiating and finalization of contracts/subcontracts and debtor/creditor relations involving bankruptcy reorganizations/liquidations and foreclosure actions.

Judge Wilson previously served as the Vice President (2014) and currently serves as Secretary (2015) for the Indiana affiliate of the National Association of Administrative Law Judiciary. She is also a member of Indiana Shared Neutrals mediation service.